Get Social and Engage with Candidates
#TalkJobsOH

What do YOUR students want to discuss?

Join a live, interactive forum with the two leading candidates for Ohio's governor, Richard Cordray and Mike DeWine, to discuss education, jobs and the future of work in Ohio. Specifically intended for young people ages 16-26, the forum will invite students and young job-seekers across the state to submit questions and hear first-hand about the issues that will affect their futures.

---

Before *Talking Jobs with Ohio's Next Governor

- Decide whether your class will be submitting questions for the forums.
  - Have a discussion with students about what issues related to education, jobs and the workforce are important to them.
    - What could/should a governor do about those issues?
    - What questions would allow your students to have a better sense of what each candidate intends to do about those issues?
    - For background, visit ideastream.org/talkjobs.
  - Submit questions before and during the event on Twitter using #TalkJobsOH or on Facebook at 90.3 WCPN ideastream.

During *Talking Jobs with Ohio's Next Governor

- Listen to each candidate's responses to the questions being asked by the moderator, students and young Ohioans via social media.
    - How do the responses compare?
    - Show us your watch party! Share your experiences on social media using #TalkJobsOH.

About *Talking Jobs with Ohio's Next Governor

- This is a candidate forum, not a debate.
  - Each candidate will have a separate conversation with the host.
  - The event will take place in Cleveland with a live studio audience of students and young adults.
  - Each candidate will have approximately 45 minutes on stage with a five minute break between candidates.
  - There will be watch parties hosted at high schools, career centers, community colleges and public television stations across the state.
  - Questions: Contact talkingjobs@ideastream.org.
